

RESIDENCE AND EMPLOYMENT RIGHTS IN THE INTERNAL MARKET - Detailed

First class: 19 February 2025. 10.00-11.30.

Main building class room A/8

Dr. habil. Éva Lukács Gellérné

Department of Private International Law and European Economic Law (ELTE)

e-mail: gellernelukacs.eva@ajk.elte.hu

Dr. Árpád Mészáros, PhD candidate

Department of Private International Law and European Economic Law (ELTE)

Description

The course covers the essential EU legal framework on residence and employment rights within the framework of free movement of persons.

Course schedule

The course spells out in detail the vast legal material on free movement of persons under EU law. Concrete issues from the realm of residence and employment rights, including the recognition of qualifications, will be dealt with. Analysis of the legal sources will be based on the TFEU and secondary EU law instruments (in particular Regulation 492/2011/EU, Directive 2004/38/EC). Special focus will be put on the relevant case-law of the European Court, we will choose cases and examine them in detail. Notable examples of implementation of EU law into national law will also be touched upon. The course aims at drawing a horizontal picture regarding short-term and long-term labour migration, the underlying processes, realities and consequences.

Materials

The slides of the lectures and uploaded documents in MOODLE during the course.

Course schedule

The course spells out in detail the vast legal material on residence and employment under EU law.

Date	Lecturer	Topic
19 February	Dr. Éva Lukács Gellérné	Introductory lecture, Treaty provisions and definitions
27 February	Dr. Éva Lukács Gellérné	Nature of residence rights (Sevince and Royer case), Nationality and citizenship issues (Tjebbes)
5 March	Dr. Éva Lukács Gellérné	Residence rights in Directive 2004/38 1.
12 March	Dr. Éva Lukács Gellérné	Residence rights in Directive 2004/38 2.
19 March	NO CLASS	Reading week
26 March	Dr. Éva Lukács Gellérné	Employment 1. Definion of work/worker, Payir case
2 April	Ass. Prof. Mária T. Patakyová Comenius University Bratislava	Internal market considerations
9 April	Dr. Árpád Mészáros	Demography and employment
16 April	NO CLASS	School holiday
23 April	Dr. Éva Lukács Gellérné	Employment 2. Atypical forms of work, relation to fragmented social security coverage
30 April	Dr. Ildikó Bodgál	Posting in practice
7 May	Ass. Prof. Mira Kuneva University of Sofia	Doing Business (Not) As Usual: Contemporary Conceptual and Practical Issues of Economic Diplomacy.

Assessment

Lecture participation is obligatory in accordance with the relevant statutes (classes might be in Teams but participation is required). There is no final written exam but different tasks will be performed throughout the semester (multiple choice tests, case studies) and students will be required to write 1 essay as well. Appr. 100 points can be reached altogether, students get grades on the basis of the number of points (80-100 points - grade 5).

Budapest, 6 February 2025.