Description:

Seminar participants will elaborate and discuss substantive and procedural human rights. We will focus on human rights which are most relevant in civil procedure and will debate the different aspects of relevant procedural guarantees and possible remedies in case of infringement of such guarantees. Different sources, which guarantee such human rights, and case law of the European Court of Human Rights (ECHR), European Court of Justice (ECJ) and the Hungarian Constitutional Court (HCC) must be assessed.

Within the course presentations will emphasize the

- right of access to justice
- right to a court established by law
- right to an independent and impartial decision-maker
- right to a fair and public hearing
- right to a representation and interpreter
- right to a hearing within a reasonable time
- right to an explanation of how the court reached its decision
- right to a legal remedy

A chapter of the course will deal with arbitration and its relations to procedural guarantees of human rights.

Assessment:

We will assess you by your paper, your presentation and your participation in the discussions.
